WEATHER BREAKS A RECORD.

YESTERDAY THE HOTTEST SEPTEM-BER 1 SINCE 1870.

MANY PEOPLE PROSTRATED AND GREAT SUP-FERING CAUSED IN THE TENEMENT-HOUSE DISTRICTS AND AMONG

THE RETURNED SOLDIERS. The weather has played New-Yorkers a good many scurvy tricks this year, but its performances of yesterday and Wednesday put everything else in the shade. Not that there was much shade about anything yesterday, but simfles cannot always be literally accurate. By September 1 people usually regard the hot eather as gone by. They begin to return to the city after vacations at the seashere and in the mountains, and they congratulate themselves on having escaped the cruel New-York the expenses of vacations have been wasted in a good many cases. After carefully recuperating during July and August, people have returned to New-York only to be prostrated by the terrible heat of the last two days. The moral of this is that if one wants a vacation to be of real benefit one should take it in Sep-

Yesterday was the hottest September 1 on record, at least as far back as the year 1870, which is as far as the records of the Weather Bureau run. But even this statement does not adequately describe the heat. The thermometer might have been higher than on any previous September 1, and the weather might still have been comparatively supportable. The percentage of humidity, although less than on Wednesday, was remarkably high, and altogether the day was about the most trying of any this year, A good criterion of the real condition of the eather is often to be found in the length of the list of deaths and prostrations due to the heat. That for yesterday is unusually long, and forms a much better standard by which to measure the amount of suffering endured by New-York ers than the records of the Weather Bureau. HOT EVEN IN THE WEATHER BUREAU.

The foolishness of taking the readings of the thermometers at the top of one of the highest buildings in the city as any real index of the temperature has been pointed out in The Tribbefore. It has been remarked that the collars of ordinary citizens make more accurate thermometers than the elaborate instruments on roof of the Manhattan Life Building. Yesterday, however, the heat was such that even the Weather Bureau issued records that are startling. Just how much higher the thermometers in the streets recorded the temperature as being cannot be accurately shown, but a difference of eight or ten degrees is a conservative

The highest temperature yesterday, according to the Weather Bureau's official report, was 92 degrees, the lowest 71 degrees. The latter record, however, was taken from 5 to 7 o'clock in the morning. During the latter part of the day the lowest temperature was 88 degrees, at 1 o'clock, The fall of four degrees was felt and noticed by every one, and it was supposed that at last there was going to be some relief. But the hopes were short-lived. The fluctuation was due to a shifting of the wind, a sea breeze blowing over the city for a few minutes, and it soon died away, so that the last state of the hapless New-Yorkers was worse than the first,

The effect of the heat upon the soldiers returned from the front has been terrible. It really does seem as though bad luck is pursuing the American Army after its glorious record in the American Army after its glorious record in Cuba. It is not only in New-York that the weather has been insufferable in the last two days—the same conditions are reported all over the country, and the soldiers, exhausted by the climate and diseases of Cuba, are in poor condition to withstand the additional strain of the heat of yesterday and Wednesday. The result of it was sadly apparent yesterday in this city.

It is hardly necessary also to refer to the awful distress which is caused by the hot weather in the tenement-house districts. The poor of this city are not only handicapped during weather city are not only handicapped during weather such as this by the crowded condition of their such as the such as the

The Columbian came inte collision with the schooner Tuesday night about three hundred and rifty miles east of Boston Light. three hundred and rifty miles east of Boston Light, carrying away both of the schooner's masts, her bowsprit and tibboom. The hull of the vessel, however, is uninjured. The collision occurred in a dense fog, and so far as can be learned was unavelable. Immediately after the collision the Celumbian was stopped and preparations were made to rescue the crew of the vessel, but there was no danger of her foundering.

NEW-JERSEY NEWS IN BRIEF. Governor Voorhees was in Washington yesterday in conference with War Department officials in refence to the mustering out of two of the New-Jersey tegiments. A decision will be made to-day.

The 2d Regiment moved yesterday from Jacksonville to Pablo Beach, seventeen miles away. The 1st Regiment will move to-day from Camp

Alger, Virginia, to Camp Meade, Middletown, Penn. General Spencer, one of the commissioners ap-pointed by Governor Voorhees to visit the 24 Regiment at Camp Alger, says that the reports of bad conditions there are much exaggerated. President and Mrs. McKinley will go to Paterson on Saturday to spend Sunday with Vice-President and Mrs. Hobart. The city of Newark is about to present to the cruiser Newark a miniature of the official seal of

SHOT IN A SALOON FIGHT.

A MAN FALLS IN A DUEL WITH AN EX-CON-

No 13 Stanton-st, and at No. 221 Chrystle-st. The two men were drinking together in the saloon about It o'clock and got into a quarrel. The bar-tender put them out, but they returned later and Carter did the same. Cassidy shot and missed, and so did Carter. Then Carter started to run. Cassidy fired at his back, and the shot went between his shoulder-blades.

As Carter dropped to the floor Cassidy darted out and ran, followed by many people. A policeman sent Carter to the hospital. Later Detectives Murray and Hart of the Eldridge-st, station, and Policemen Young and Hay found Cassidy in bed in a rear room on the fourth floor of No. 221 Chrystiest, He was arrested, and the police identified him as the original of partrait No. 2014 in the Rogues Gallery. The man photographed is described as a "limflammer" and street titlef. He was sentenced to Sing Sing in 1893 for picking pockets.

John Dulasky, a small boy who saw the shooting, has been detained as a witness. The victim's condition at a late hour was critical. The prisoner was arraigned in the Essex Market police court and was held by Magistrate Mott to await the result of Carter's injuries.
